More Research on 2,4-D

A laboratory studied fathead minnow early life stages when exposed to low doses of 2,4-D - a chemical often used in aquatic plant herbicide treatments, including Eurasian water-milfoil control. The findings were published in the peer reviewed journal "Environmental Toxicology and Chemistry" in June 2018.

New Grants Project Manager Hired!

Laura MacFarland will be taking the place of Jane Malischke as the Northern Region Surface Water Grants Project Manager beginning Nov 26, 2018 and will work out of the Rhinelander DNR office. I will distribute her contact information in Dec.

Feral Swine Found Close to Home

Watch for invasive feral swine - they have been found near the Nicolet National Forest in Florence, WI. Report any sightings of feral swine to the DNR tip line at 1-800-TIP-WDNR.
